

Scot W.R. Nei - Professional Golfer

Height: 5'7"

Birth Date: August 7

Residence: Orlando Florida

Weight: 145

Birth Place: Chicago

College: Northwestern University

Overview

Scot W.R. Nei is a professional golfer who entered the PGA in 1989. He member of multiple golf tours in multiple countries. Mr. Nei has qualified for several open tournaments. In Arizona, he had the lowest qualifying score. Scot's golf has earned him a scholarship to the prestigious Northwestern University in the Chicagoland area. He is an instructor to golf enthusiasts as well as professional golfers, and he was voted favorite by his students. Scot has also participated in golf course design and construction in the Dominican Republic.

Golf Memberships

Entered PGA in 1989
Member of Western States Golf Tour
Member of Grand Canyon State Golf Tour
Member of Pepsi Golf Tour
Member of Moonlight Golf Tour
Member of Canadian Golf Tour
Member of Tour de Las Americas Golf Tour

Scot W.R. Nei & Annika Sorenstam

Yoor Kim and Scot W.R. Nei

Open Qualifications

Puerto Rico Open (Qualified)
Nike Great Lakes Open (Qualified)
Arizona Open (Qualified – 3 times)
Lowest Qualifier (69)

Natile Gulbis and Scot W.R. Nei

Scot W.R. Nei and Roger Tay

Golf Scholarship

Northwestern University (Scholarship)

Golf Instruction

Instructor to numerous Professional Golfers
Voted best Instructor

Golf Course Construction

Dominican Republic

Gary McCord and Scot W.R. Nei

Scot W.R. Nei, Steve Jones, and Salena Henderson

